

Descendants of Claude Joseph Pequignot

Generation No. 1

1. CLAUDE JOSEPH⁴ PEQUIGNOT (AMBROISE³, PIERRE FRANCOIS², CLAUDE FRANCOIS¹) was born 22 Feb 1815 in Courchaton, Haute Saone, France¹, and died 12 Jan 1892 in Allen County, Indiana². He married AUGUSTINE CHRISTINE SALLOT 21 Jan 1838 in Courchaton, Haute Saone, France³. She was born 1812 in Paris, France, and died 12 Jan 1892 in Allen County, Indiana⁴.

Notes for CLAUDE JOSEPH PEQUIGNOT:

Claude Joseph moved to USA and settled in Allen Co, Indiana. He was a farmer and an engineer on the Erie Canal in Fort Wayne, Indiana. According to Cemetery records, he is buried at Sacred Heart Cemetery, St. Vincent Catholic Church, Allen County, Indiana, USA. His marker is not readable as of 2000. The third church built on a site that covered several graves. Possibly Claude's grave was one that was covered.

According to James R. Pequignot, Sr. Claude Joseph Pequignot's name was Claude P. Pequignot. An entry in the 1880 U.S. Census Records for Allen County, Indiana shows Claude Joesph Pequignot's name as C. J. Pequignot. James R. Pequignot believes that the old family farm was located on Dupont Road on the north side of the road between where i69 is now and Diebold Road. It was a white farm house.

Family stories told about Claude's farm house being on what is now Hollopeter Road in Northern Allen County, Indiana. The farm house was still standing in 1967 when visited by Dale P. Pequignot, but was abandoned. By 2001 the farm house was razed.

Immigration records show Claude's last name misspelled as "Pequegnot." This same information also lists his correct wife, correct wedding date and correct birth date. Information in this paragraph provided by Diana Pequignot, January 2, 2002, DiPeq@webtv.net.

Another family story by Diana Alwine, suggests Claude immigrated to America in 1842, as recorded in Claude's cemetery records. It is doubtful Claude came to America in 1842, because his first two children were born in France in 1846 and 1847 respectively. Diana Alwine further suggests that Claude came from France on the ship Sully, and was buried in a common grave where many people were buried that died from a cholera epidemic. That common grave was subsequently covered by a new church that was built over it.

The Reverend Claude F. Kinder's records indicate that Claude immigrated to America in 1843, by sailboat, named the Oregon.

Claude's son August C. Pequignot is buried in this same cemetery. His marker is still visible in the first row next to a creek on the north side of the cemetery, plot #383. This is the old cemetery on the northwest side of the intersection of Wallen and Old Auburn Roads.

Steve:

I discovered one more thing..the 1930 census states that Jose immigrated into this country in 1927. Also I spoke to my mother-in-law (Jose's Daughter) and we have been able to put together a time-line for him. He met Hazel Chisolm in Michigan in around 1927/1928. They moved to Lakewood Ohio in 1928/1930. Their first child (Josephine) was born there. Then on to Indiana (Fort Wayne area) where Carnon and Joe were born. Then moved to Illinois where Jose left Hazel. He sent her pictures that he painted and she sold them for money to support her children. We have found a old letter that he wrote her reminding her that he could not return to Ill (Chicago) since he was wanted there. We do not know why he was "wanted". We suspect that it had something to do with being married to two women at the same time. Hazel never got over him leaving her like that and she never re-married. She would not even speak of him.

He then moved to the Lousiana and then to the San Francisco area. My mother-in-law saw him in San Fran in 1950 or 1951.

My mother-in-law suspects that Jose fathered many other children across the US and she would really like to meet them.

I'll let you know if I find out more info on him.
